One His plus One Hers full dive suit

Sharkskin, the original and still the best thermal layer on the market. The Sharkskin suit has many uses providing full body protection from cold, sun, wind and marine stingers. The suit is designed to completely replace your wetsuit in warmer waters providing the equivalent insulation of a 2.5 – 3mm wetsuit. The additional benefit of neutral buoyancy characteristics will increase your comfort level whilst snorkelling or scuba diving as less weight needs to be worn. The Sharkskin suit is so versatile that after your tropical diving adventure it can even be worn as an additional layer under a conventional wetsuit or even as a dry suit undergarment.

LOLOATA ISLAND RESORT, PAPUA NEW GUINEA

5 days, 10 dive package

Includes Port Moresby pick-up and transfers.

Twin share accommodation, all meals and equipment rental

Loloata Island Resort is situated on a lovely tropical island in Bootless Bay, off Port Moresby, Papua New Guinea. Many divers stop-off for a day or two at the resort when traveling to and from other dive destinations in the country, but Loloata Island is much more than a stop-over, as surrounding the island are some of the best dive sites in Papua New Guinea.

Loloata Island Resort is one of the easiest dive resorts to get to from Australia. Stepping off the plane at Port Moresby's Jackson Airport, you will be picked up and transferred to the island in less than half an hour.

The resort has 23 cabins set along the mangrove shoreline, and also has a conference centre, bar, shop, spacious dining area and dive shop.
